

Kid Slique Striped Scarf

Designed by Laura Bryant ©2008

FP8

One size: approx 6 x 75"

Materials:

Prism Kid Slique, 66% rayon, 26% kid mohair, 8% nylon;
2 oz/58 gr; 88 yds/79m; size 4
1 skein each in three coordinating colors: A, B, C
Needles size 11 & 15 or size to get gauge

Gauge: In garter stitch on smaller needle, 10 sts = 4

Note: Since the scarf is worked longways, it is critical that both cast on and bound off edges be very loose, or it will not hang properly. Edges should be as loose as the knitting itself. An e-wrap or knit-on style cast-on will produce a loose edge; so will casting on over two needles. When binding off, use a larger needle and make sure the new stitch is pushed down to the large part of needle—if stitches are worked on needle tip, they will become too small.

Scarf: With larger needle and A, CO 160 sts.
Change to smaller needle and knit 12 rows.
Change to B and k 12 rows.
Change to C and k 12 rows, leaving enough yarn to BO.
BO with larger needle.

*Luscious long striped scarves are fun and easy to make.
Pick three coordinating colors for maximum impact.
Ours are made from Prism Kid Slique, a yummy blend of hand dyed shiny rayon and super soft kid mohair.
